Col. Nickerson Plans Appeal

Will Continue Fight For Missile Program

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Col. John C. Nickerson Jr., under fire and reprimand for misuse of secret defense data, says he will "continue the fight within the armed forces" in behalf of the Army's missile program.

The 41-year-old officer, who pleaded guilty before a court-martial board on 15 counts of leaking secret information, said Sunday night "I will speak my opinions wherever I can."

He also said he has no intention of resigning his Army commission.

Nickerson was fined $1,500, officially reprimanded and suspended from rank for a year by the 10-man board Saturday at the end of a five-day trial.

The sentence is subject to review by 3rd Army headquarters in Atlanta, the Department of the Army and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

In a telephone interview from his residence at nearby Huntsville Arsenal, Nickerson said the sentence will be appealed.

"We'll wait to see what comes out of 3rd Army," he said, "then we'll exhaust all legal remedies as far as appeal is concerned."

Although stating he was "jubilant" over the outcome of the courtmartial, the West Point graduate said he expects to "transfer from the Redstone Arsenal," where much of the Army's ballistic missile research has been done.

He said he would continue his fight for the missile program "regardless of where it has to be done." The fight, he said, will be carried on through articles and books. He said he would submit his writings for top security clearance.

"I have no definite plan for my writings now. That will take time."

The charges against Nickerson grew out of his efforts to effect a reversal of an order by the secretary of defense. Wilson's order assigned development and use of an intermediate range ballistic missile to the Air Force.

Hoffa Defense Seeks Mistrial

Contends Witness Prejudiced Jury

WASHINGTON (AP)—The defense moved today for a mistrial in labor leader Jimmy Hoffa's bribery-conspiracy trial, contending a prosecution witness had brought in "racial views" in a manner to prejudice the jury. There are eight Negroes on the jury.

U. S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews said she would rule on the motion later in the day and meanwhile ordered the trial continued.

Hoffa, midwest boss of the Teamsters Union, and Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney, are charged with "planting" John C. Cheasty, a Brooklyn lawyer-investigator, on the Senate racks investigating committee to feed Hoffa the committee's inside information.

Cheasty, the prosecution's star witness in the trial, testified he told the committee and the FBI of the plot.

Edward B. Williams, Hoffa's attorney, and Daniel B. Maher, counsel for Fischbach, joined in the motion for a mistrial.

They cited testimony given Friday by Cheasty on cross-examination, he was asked by Williams whether he used a fictitious name when employed in Florida last year to, as Williams put it, investigate the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

Seven Die As Flash Floods Hit Missouri

Threat Of Pestilence Spurs Interment

Louisiana Plans Mass Burial For Unidentified Storm Dead

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Louisiana today prepared mass burial for the nameless among its estimated 350 hurricane victims.

Thousands of survivors of Thursday's great storm still clogged makeshift refugee centers here and in nearby towns. From Washington came a Red Cross estimate of 47,000 still homeless in southwestern Louisiana and southeastern Texas.

The latest estimate of the death toll came Sunday from Larry Stephenson, local director of civil defense. He based it on a widely accepted premise that uncounted dead still were screened from searchers by storm debris and the slowly receding tidal waters of the now serene Gulf of Mexico.

About 240 bodies have been recovered.

Gov. Earl Long inspected the disaster area Sunday and predicted: "The actual count of dead and missing will go way over 400."

He wouldn't guess how long it would take to rebuild an area that suffered a loss running into uncalculated millions of dollars.

"Nobody knows but the Lord," he said.

A growing threat of pestilence spurred the mass burial of unidentified bodies. Sunday night's humid air in temporary morgues here echoed the soft chant of spirituals as many Negroes besought a final moment with their dead.

"Oh Lord, oh goodness gracious, oh Lord," one woman cried.

Another moaned just before collapsing: "Oh Lord, there's so many of them."

As far as 80 miles east of the storm center in Louisiana's southwestern tip, typhoid shots ran low. Mosquitoes thrived in the brackish waters swollen by Hurricane Audrey and her deadly escort, a 20-foot tidal wave from the Gulf of Mexico.

Tens of thousands of cattle bloated in withering heat. President Eisenhower's special representative on the scene, Val Peterson, former head of the nation's civil defense, told the chief executive Sunday by telephone: "There is a very great health program, because of the bodies of both human beings and animals. All of the health agencies are working very hard."

A feverish two-day rescue operation for survivors of the season's first hurricane gave way to a grim quest for the dead. State

Slides Block Roads, Railroad Tracks; Homes, Buildings Hit

IRONTON, Mo. (AP)—Flash floods and violent winds battered this valley area Sunday, leaving seven persons dead and extensive crop and property damage.

Coroner C. A. Howell estimated property damage at nearly a million dollars.

Roads and miles of railroad tracks were blocked by landslides. The Red Cross reported 80 homes damaged or destroyed and 32 other buildings hit.

Fourteen fishermen spent a terror-filled night in trees.

Robert Kitchens, 36, of nearby Graniteville, and his five children drowned in a deep ditch.

The children were Robert Jr., 8; Arthur Newton, 7; Evelyn Elaine, 5; Thomas, 3; and Dennis Ray, 1. Mrs. Juanita Kitchens, 27, the mother, was hospitalized with severe shock.

Albert Batteral, 65, of Old Mines, drowned when a wall of water swept him under as he surveyed damage to his home.

The rain began late Saturday night and continued into the early hours Sunday. It caught the 1,200 residents of this town 100 miles southeast of St. Louis unprepared.

The Kitchens family left their low-lying farm home when the storm hit. Their car stalled on Missouri Highway 21. Arthur Wilson, 44, Arcadia, offered to drive them to his home for the night.

"We just didn't get there," Wilson said sadly later. "We had been going through hucap water for some time. . . . Suddenly we were in water which covered the car completely."

"I opened the door and tried to help Mrs. Kitchens out. But the current swept me away. I caught on to a tree but a log hit me and drifted but was carried some 300 or 400 yards. I saw Mrs. Kitchens pass me as I was holding on. I just saw her head as she slipped on by me."

Rescue parties in boats picked up Mrs. Kitchens and Wilson and recovered the six bodies.

The fishermen were caught by swiftly rising water at Grubville, 42 miles southwest of St. Louis. They climbed first to the tops of their cars, then were forced to take to the trees as waters rose.

After nine hours in the trees, an unidentified man and woman heard their calls for help and a boat rescue was made.

Senate To Debate On Defense Bill

House Group Takes Action To Assure Agencies Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government started its new financial year today with some of its larger agencies not yet financed by Congress.

To cope with the situation, the House Appropriations Committee called an emergency session. It planned to send to the House for action later today a stop-gap resolution providing temporary funds for agencies whose annual money bills haven't cleared Congress.

In the technically "broke" group are the Defense Department, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority and the International Cooperation Administration, which handles the foreign aid program, plus several smaller agencies. Awaiting final Senate action today also are House-Senate committee agreements on the Agriculture and Interior Department money bills.

Actually, the agencies have enough money to tide them over until Congress acts, provided it doesn't delay too long. The emergency resolution generally will allow the unfunded agencies to continue spending at current levels until their appropriation bills become law.

Sen. Chavez (D-NM), floor manager of the 34½-billion-dollar defense appropriation bill, said he hoped to have it called up for Senate debate later in the day.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, has programed a final vote on it by Wednesday, when the Senate is to start a long Fourth of July week-end.

Administration forces indicated they plan a fight to protect the nearly one billion dollars the Senate Appropriations Committee has restored from House-voted cash cuts totaling $1,220,000,000.

They said they had no hope of inducing the Senate to increase the bill any further, and that they will be satisfied if they can hold the substantial victory the administration won in the committee.

An analysis showed that Congress so far has trimmed $148,212,667 from nine appropriations bills for the new fiscal year. Each of these measures was cut below President Eisenhower's requests.

40,000 State Employees Get Pay Hikes Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some 40,000 state employees start getting a 5 per cent pay increase today. The State Salary and Classification Law, enacted in 1953, provides for cost-of-living increases based on the federal price index and for apprenticeship increments.

Some 5,000 other state employees, who will not get increases, are not under the salary and classification law. They include some employees in universities and in the legislative and judicial branches of government.

About 25,000 of the 40,000 eligible for the 5 per cent cost-of-living pay hikes also will get an additional 5 per cent as apprenticeship increments for service longevity. The 15,000 not receiving the extra 5 per cent have already reached the top pay range in their jobs.

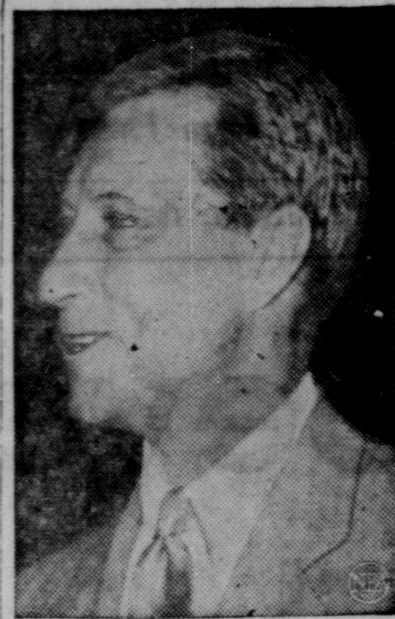

State Finance Director John A. Skipton estimated the cost-of-living increases will cost the state 15 million dollars in the fiscal biennium starting today, while the apprenticeship increments will cost about 11 millions.

Ohio VFW, Auxiliary Hold Officer Election

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Elected state commander at the final session of the Ohio Veterans of Foreign Wars' 37th annual encampment Sunday was Alvin Casenhiser of Wadsworth.

The group chose Columbus as the site for their 1959 convention. They meet in Cincinnati next year.

Other officers named were Leroy Schell of Amsterdam, senior vice commander; John Fyre of Lorain, junior vice commander; William Grimmell of Columbus, judge advocate, and Rev. Thurman H. Tobias of Independence, chaplain.

Mrs. Thelma Bleier of Cincinnati was elected president of the women's auxiliary; Mrs. Roby Stone of Sandusky, senior vice president; and Mrs. Florence Miller of Dayton, junior vice president.

Nude Body Of Akron Woman Discovered

CLEVELAND (U)—The body of an Akron woman, discovered on the bank of a Summit County Creek, will be examined today to determine the cause of death.

An employee at the Akron sewage disposal plant found the nude body of Mrs. Margaret Bridenthal, 41, while making a routine check of property adjacent to the plant.

Mrs. Bridenthal, reported missing by her husband, Russell, last week, had been dead for several days, according to Charles J. Madden, Summit County Coroner's investigator.

An autopsy at the Cuyahoga County Coroner's office here today will attempt to determine how the woman died.

Bridenthal told police Sunday that he had not seen his wife since June 18. He said he left her that afternoon in an Akron tavern.

You Never Could Be Sure

It would be a neighborly act for Ohioans who know how the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's mind worked to warn New Jersey's youngish Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen about something he did in Washington this week.

Taft would have been for federal school aid in 1957, argued Frelinghuysen, because he said in a Senate debate in 1948 that he was in favor of school aid.

It is possible the Ohioan would have seen no reason to change his mind in nine years. But it is as easily possible that in 1957 he would have reappraised the idea of federal school aid and decided, as many of us have, that this is one place where the federal government should do what President Eisenhower was talking about when he addressed the governors at Williamsburg.

At this point in public affairs, Taft, too, might have been anxious to avoid any further centralization of money power in Washington. But no one can be sure.

You never could be sure about Sen. Taft. As Rep. Frelinghuysen says, his ardent admirers did not really understand how his mind worked — and that is something else a youngish Republican congressman should know.

Many who profess to be his admirers now that he is gone and can be quoted without fear of a scorching Taft rebuttal were not the Ohioan's admirers while he was deciding public issues on his merits, instead of on his appraisal of his constituents' prejudices. That incisive mind which cut to the heart of every question, sometimes one way, sometimes the other way, scared them away.

Fast Writeoff

The starting point for any disarmament idea worth a second thought is a shared interest in cutting down the cost of being armed.

If the United States and the Soviet Union both want to lighten the burden of being prepared to fight a full-scale war, there can be disarmament. Otherwise, they are wasting their time talking about it.

There is obvious logic in the proposal to withdraw nonnuclear weapons from a state of readiness first — to retire them to mothballs with a year of grace before they are destroyed or converted to peacetime use.

This would amount to a fast military writeoff of a huge capital investment which can be kept on the books only at the cost of huge operating costs. For example, the mothballing of the nonnuclear submarine fleets of the two nations would be followed by large reductions in the manpower needed to keep the fleets operational.

The proposal's other merit, of course, is that it would rid European countries of fear that Russia's nonnuclear striking power might remain intact even though nuclear weapons were never used. Russia's tanks, infantry forces and tactical air force — even its horse-drawn supply trains — are as potent as they were when they were more than a match for Hitler's forces.

Disarmament is not an idealistic goal. It is a practical one — as practical as the fact that nearly 40 per cent of the 72-billion-dollar budget under discussion in the United States is ticketed for national defense. In Russia, the burden is even heavier.

A Trace Of Anarchy

"Not to have a correct political point of view is like having no soul," Mao Tse-tung told his Chinese Communists in that momentous address on "The Correct Handling of Contradictions Among the People."

He then estimated that upward of a million Chinese who had been bothered by contradictions had been correctly handled; they had been slaughtered. That was the only way to guarantee that their political soullessness would do no damage to Communist dictatorship.

Here is the point of complete departure for Americans from the way of thinking which makes dictatorship possible. The trace of anarchy that lingers in every American's heart makes all absolutism absurd. There can be no such thing as a correct political point of view in the United States.

Political insiders, themselves, cannot agree on a correct point of view. Outsiders, on the other hand, take endless delight in their option of kicking the ideological stuffing out of all politicians and all parties.

Hardshells who would like to exclude everything contrary to their own prejudices cannot find leadership. Chronic reactionaries flash forth with new ideas, and radicals become stand-patters. Anyone who tried to define a "correct political point of view" for Americans would have to run for the hills. Significantly, that is exactly what the dictators seem to be doing whenever they lay down a new party line — trying to keep ahead of an angry mob behind them.

Anyone who thinks he's always right finds it very easy to get in wrong.

It takes more than the high cost of living to keep smart folks from building a happy home.

Precept And Practice

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Supreme Court Permits No Cross-Examination

David Lawrence

The Supreme Court of the United States doesn't practice what it preaches. From time immemorial it has been a rule of "law that, when an expert witness testifies in court, he must be present for cross-examination by the other side. The Supreme Court has just said, more or less, that, when the FBI puts on a witness in a criminal case, the other side must have access to anything and everything about the witness which is in the files of the law-enforcement agency so that the credibility of such a witness may be tested in court.

But the Supreme Court of the United States doesn't allow this in its own proceedings. Thus, the famous decision on school integration violated all the rules of modern courts by declaring that it was based on the "authority" of witnesses who never were revealed in court at all.

Some of these "witnesses" were connected with Communist-front organizations and one of them was a Swedish socialist who bitterly criticized the American Constitution.

THE LAWYERS for the several sovereign states who argued the case before the Supreme Court were not told that the court had any "secret witnesses" or "experts" up its judicial sleeve.

Only when the decision was printed did the American people learn what "witnesses" had influenced the Supreme Court's conclusions.

Today one of the bitterest controversies in American history has grown out of the same Supreme Court decision, which says candidly that its ruling was based on information derived from certain "experts."

The decision says that "whatever may have been the extent of psychological knowledge" at the time (1896) that the opinion (Plessy v. Brown) was handed down which permitted "separate but equal" school facilities, the new finding "is amply supported by modern authority."

The Supreme Court, in its opinion, then cited six "authorities" and said in a footnote: "And see generally Myrdal, 'An American Dilemma' (1944)."

SEN. EASTLAND (D-Miss.), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, has placed before the Senate a resolution containing information which nobody was evidently permitted to place before the Supreme Court during the time the case was being argued.

He says that a "provisional investigation of the authorities upon which the Supreme Court relied reveals to a shocking degree their connection with and participation in the worldwide Communist conspiracy, in that Brameld and Frazier, listed in the group of six authorities, have no less than 28 citations in the files of the Committee on un-American activities of the United States House of Representatives revealing membership in, or participation with, Communist or Communist-front organizations and activities."

Mr. Eastland pointed out that Myrdal, the Swedish socialist, declared — in the book cited by the Supreme Court — that the United States Constitution was "impractical and unsuited to modern conditions" and that its adoption was "nearly a plot against the common people."

SEN. EASTLAND added that the citation of these "authorities" clearly indicates "a dangerous influence and control exerted on the Supreme Court by Communist-front pressure groups and other enemies of the American Republic and individual members thereof that is inimical to the general welfare and best interests of the republic."

MR. EASTLAND said he was convinced the Supreme Court has been "indoctrinated and brainwashed" by left-wing pressure groups.

Whether one does or does not agree with Mr. Eastland's contentions, the fact is that nobody could cross-examine the "authorities" cited by the Supreme Court nor introduce other experts to present a contradictory interpretation. The court didn't tell anybody who its "witnesses" were. It kept them secret until the decision itself was announced.

There wasn't any opportunity for "confrontation" or "refutation." Yet that's the rule the Supreme Court insists on whenever anyone in the lower courts brings in witnesses and no opportunity for cross-examination is given.

Instead of performing a review function, the Supreme Court has introduced its own "experts," and the other side could not cross-examine them or evaluate their expertise or credibility.

This certainly wasn't "due process" — the court's favorite phrase, which it used pointedly in a recent decision crippling the powers of congressional investigating committees.

That Ole Debbil

By TRUMAN TWILL

Sylvia Porter was writing in her financial column the other day about what most of us would do if we acquired a million dollars. That would not be a vast fortune in shrunken dollars, but it still would put our heads above water, provided someone else paid the inheritance tax.

The University of Michigan Research Center has discovered that four out of five working stiff above the unskilled-labor category would continue to do what they are doing. Only one of five would risk boredom by chucking everything.

This seems to signify that most working stiff are smarter than cynics give them credit for being. They are smart enough to know what human beings are happier when they are busy doing something that keeps them interested than they are when goofing off. But if the truth of this be granted, what accounts for the fact so many men lead "lives of quite desperation"?

The answer is to be found not in what they do to earn a livelihood but in the fact they resent the nagging compulsion to do it on terms over which they have no control.

Instead of being engaged in the pursuit of happiness, they are obsessed with the idea they are being pursued by something that has deprived them of self-determination.

The Truman Twill Research Center, a strictly private organization with no tax exemption, has discovered that what four out of five working stiff would do if they became financially secure would be to redouble their efforts to turn in satisfactory work on terms which would give them more say-so about their efforts.

A surprisingly large number would set aside only a fraction of their windfall for personal use. The rest would be used for the benefit of others — for education, philanthropy and that helping hand in the right time and the right place which might make the difference between another man's unqualified success and his modified failure.

The fraction set aside for personal use would never be touched, aside from small portions for purchasing small luxuries. It would be held in reserve against the time when its existence could justify a decision to pursue happiness in a greener pasture.

Men are not discontented because they work but because they have no choice. Even drudgery could be made palatable if a drudge had the option of doing something more interesting.

Some workers have the option without having the million. They never feel chained down. There is used to be tens of thousands of them going and coming like migratory birds; they were called hoboes if they had a sense of responsibility, bums if they lacked it. But they never quite attained respectability.

They seemed to prove what cynics believe to be true about all working stiff — that they would not be worth the powder to blow up their fringe benefits if they were not driven by necessity. Maybe so.

But not necessarily so. The University of Michigan Research Center has uncovered important evidence to the contrary — evidence in harmony with what optimists prefer to believe about their fellow-men.

Most of us like to work. But we are vexed by the felling we have no choice.

Our pursuit of happiness becomes less important than that ole debbil necessity breathing on our necks all the time.

Bombshell Anniversary

By RAYMOND MOLEY

This is the week in which we celebrate our national independence with appropriate speeches, holidays, parties, and automobile wrecks. I suggest that a moment be given to a consideration of another anniversary, also falling within the week but which no one wants to celebrate.

On July 2, 1933 President Roosevelt dispatched to the United States delegation at the so-called London Economic Conference an amazing message. It threw not only the U.S. delegation but every one else into such chaos that the conference died a few days later.

Quite appropriately, it has been called the "Bombshell Message," and there have been few, even among the most ardent worshippers of the late President, who have cared to defend it.

In the spring of that year, Roosevelt had taken the United States off the gold standard and had thrown international exchanges into a great deal of confusion.

Therefore, the nations that met in London on June 12 for the conference were urgently concerned in getting some kind of agreement to stabilize their currencies in relation to each other.

THIS DeESIRE was even true in a lesser degree of most of the members of the American delegation.

The instructions they had been given by President Roosevelt had been to agree "that it is in the interests of all concerned that stability in the international monetary field be attained as quickly as practicable, and that gold should be re-established as the international measure of exchange values."

Attempts by the American delegation to arrive at such an agreement, however, had been rejected by the President, and great confusion prevailed in London.

I was dispatched by the President to see what could be done, and after arrival I secured an agreement in almost exactly the terms of his instructions above. In short, that at some time in the future the matter would be settled at a definite figure.

Even his harmless gesture was rejected by the President, although it had the approval of the secretary and undersecretary of the treasury, Bernard Baruch, who was advising the President, and all the experts who had been appointed by him.

IT IS A MATTER of record now that the influences which moved him to this strange reversal of his own instructions were Louis Howe, who professedly knew nothing of public finance, and Henry Morgenthau, Jr. They were with the President on the ship on which he was cruising.

Morgenthau was not yet secretary of the treasury. It is also a matter of record that some time after he was appointed to that post, his major advisor on international finance was the late Harry Dexter White.

The cream of the jest is the language of the "Bombshell" regarding inflation and balanced budgets.

In the message Roosevelt said that, "The United States seeks the kind of dollar which a generation hence will have the same purchasing and debt paying power as the dollar we hope to attain the near future."

Now, 24 years later, the dollar that people put aside in 1933 is worth about 45 cents.

Roosevelt also chided the nations for not balancing their budgets. The record shows that under his presidency there were no balanced budgets, and eight of his fiscal years were peacetime years.

NOT UNTIL fiscal 1947 was there a surplus. The total of the F.D.R. deficits for the first seven of the peacetime years were $54,110,000,000.

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., who in his diary recorded his pleasure at the President's Bombshell Message, largely, it seems, because it was supposed to injure me, was secretary of the treasury during those years.

As for Roosevelt's reputation of a mill promise to stabilize currencies in the future and to return to gold "as a measure of exchange values," the events soon repudiated him.

Two weeks after his "Bombshell," he was compelled to order the shipment of gold. Six months later, he asked Congress to authorize a stabilization agreement.

AND HIS EFFORT to adjust prices by the Warren method of changing the value of gold was a dismal failure. The great pragmatist was "hoist with his own petar."

There was a much more serious aspect to the "Bombshell" diplomacy of the late President.

That message in 1933 sent every delegate in every European country home with the feeling that international action was futile. Nationalism was the order from then on — a nationalism which plunged the nations into the horrors of World War II.

Backhanded Compliment

By THOMAS R. HENRY

Science has come up with a backhanded good word for the much-condemned cigarette.

A cigarette smoker who swears off successfully tends to gain weight and — depending on age and other factors — overweight can have considerable effect on the so-called "degenerative diseases."

Drs. J. Brozek and Ancel Keys of the University of Minnesota, have just reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science what is probably the first systematic study of the weight-gaining phenomenon.

The subjects were a group of 300 professional and businessmen who underwent yearly physical examinations. All had voluntarily sworn off smoking. They were matched against a similar group of men who didn't stop and who were of approximately the same weight and age.

Data were assembled over a five-year period — weight two years before the men stopped smoking and after two years of abstinence.

The control group, on the average, lost a little weight. The others — the non-smokers — gained an average of about nine pounds in two years.

The question of the permanence of the weight gain remained unanswered. The report says: "While the evidence concerning the effect on body weight of stopping cigarette smoking is convincing, no simple and definite interpretation can be offered. However, experimental observations on the inhibition of gastric hunger contractions by smoking and the increase in tobacco consumption among individuals who are maintained on reduced calorie intake suggest that smoking tends to depress the felt need for food."

Needless to say the Minnesota investigators did not recommend that men of middle age smoke cigarettes to keep weight down.

They had no comment on the definite life-shortening effect of smoking uncovered in an American Cancer Society study reported at the last meeting of the American Medical Association.

Their figures are averages and do not necessarily apply to any single individual. Some probably would lose weight after discarding cigarettes.

The study was undertaken, the report said, in the course of researches on aging and the development of degenerative heart disease.

Our Export Business

Whatever the merits of our postwar habit of giving a certain amount of money every year to our friends abroad, there can be no objection to their buying things from us. And the record indicates they are doing more purchasing all the time.

In 1956 our total exports hit a new peak of 19 billion dollars. Already in the first four months of 1957 they have climbed 28 per cent above the comparable period of 1956. And last year's yearly total represented an 18 per cent bulge over 1955.

In a compact review of the foreign trade picture, the New York Times noted that foreign sales today consume some 20 to 25 per cent of America's wheat, rice, cotton and tobacco, more than 10 per cent of its coal, and 15 to 20 per cent of its heavy machinery and vehicles.

Some economists evidently see our foreign trade not only as an important sustaining factor for industry in good times but as a healthy balance in times of mild recession. In 1953-54 the value of all goods and services dropped 1 per cent — but exports rose 2 per cent.

Therefore it would seem plain that they are a definite stabilizer in averting sharp downswings.

Uncle Sam Carries On

("The attorney general is preparing for further hearings in the reversed lower court in the matter of a fair disposition of the 23 per cent GM stock held by du Pont. The Supreme Court said: 'The lower courts are clothed with large discretions to model a judgment to fit a particular case.'")—News item)

Uncle Sam — Your honor, we are back in this court under the ruling you are clothed with "the large discretions necessary" from here in.

Judge — The clothing sent me by the Supreme Court seems to consist of a sweatshirt and a pair of waltzing slippers.

Uncle Sam — Do you feel you can model a judgment to fit this case?

Judge — This looks more like a remodeling and new paint job. I must be careful not to use Duco.

Brownell — I trust you see the fairness of the high court decision.

Judge — It was not so much a decision as a demonstration of group skidding by all court members. Pardon my dizziness but get this picture . . . three Supreme Court justices were absent; only six were voting and Chief Justice Warren voted with Justices Black and Douglas, and THEY SAY I WAS OUT OF LINE!!!

Brownell — The facts are clear. DuPont rescued GM in a period of desperate trouble, but I want a ruling that any rescues in a storm are illegal, especially if 30 years later it develops that the life-guard got a reward.

Judge — I think you want a ruling that if the life-guard ever shows up in dry clothes the whole relationship is a capital offense.

Brownell — Lets get down to brass tacks. Judge — No brass tacks figured in this case; it was just paint, enamel and upholstery.

Brownell — Just between ourselves I'm no more enthusiastic about being here than you are. I got into this du Pont thing too deep and I've got to keep going.

Judge — I refuse to issue any order requiring du Pont to make its paint in only one color, lily white, or to limit its fabric patterns to a background depicting the non-profit motive.

Brownell — I am not asking that.

Judge — Just what are you asking?

Brownell — I'm a little confused too. If the Supreme Court is mixed up and you're mixed up I don't see why I shouldn't share in the confusion.

A Voice — Refer the matter back to the Supreme Court for further hearings and a determination of whether it was smog, a crosswind or atomic fall-out that knocked a Republican justice into the Black and Douglas camp.

Judge — Order in the court. Mr. Brownell, just how do you see this situation, really?

Brownell — You have to find some way to distribute du Pont's 23 per cent stock interest so that nobody will have a complaint. That's all.

Judge — What do you mean by "that's all"? Its the trick of the year, even if I can't do it. (There is a sound of crashing glass.) What was that?

Court Officer — That's another businessman who thought things would be less tough under the Republicans. He jumped not only through the glass but the wire screen!

SHERMAN BILLINGSLEY, famed Stork Club proprietor, is certainly having his troubles. The other day six painters took over the front steps of his home for their lunch hour, blocking entrance. They refused to move when he requested, whereupon he displayed a gun. This would seem a point farthest north from Stork Club hospitality, but, on the other hand, is there anything that can make a man blow his top faster than to get a leer when he finds his porch loaded with strangers and suggests that a stairway does not constitute a public picnic ground?

SPANISH BASES ALMOST READY — American long-range nuclear bombers will begin "limited operations" out of Spain this fall. In an emergency our Strategic Air Command could move into Spain today. The three main SAC bases (Seville, Torrejon, Saragossa) have had housekeeping crews for several months. Newsmap shows our network of air bases and naval installation. Lifeline of the complex is the $45 million, 12-inch, American-built fuel pipeline. Torrejon's 13,400-foot runways are the longest in Europe. Rota is a combined port-naval air station. It will be able to handle three large Forrestal-type carriers simultaneously. At El Ferrol and Cartagena, the Navy is installing underground fuel dumps.

President, Wife Celebrate Wedding 41 Years Ago

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — President and Mrs. Eisenhower are observing their 41st wedding anniversary today at their country home on the edge of this quiet town.

"It's a home which nestles in peaceful green fields where in the early hours 94 years ago today the forces of Meade and Lee — North against South — first clashed in the tide-turning Civil War battle of Gettysburg.

Sunday night the President and the First Lady went to the Gettysburg High School auditorium for a ceremony commemorating the men of the Blue and the Grey who died in that agonizing three-day battle.

There they heard Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, tell a capacity audience of about 1,500 that the hope for secure peace "burns as warmly in our hearts today" as it did in 1863.

Taylor said that in this nuclear age, the possibility of a general atomic war is lessening. But he added local limited aggression by Communist forces poses "an increasingly serious threat to world peace."

After Taylor's speech, the President and his wife stood at their front row seats and smiled broadly when the master of ceremonies, Gettysburg's Burgess (Mayor William G. Weaver, told the crowd: "I think it fitting to give the bride and groom of 41 years a big hand at this time."

The audience cut loose with a warm ovation for the Eisenhowers.

For the President and the First Lady today is a day of personal memories of their marriage in Denver in 1916, just a year after Eisenhower's graduation from West Point as a second lieutenant.

There was an exchange of anniversary gifts at the farm but what they gave each other was not made public.

Craven of Brilliant, $10, failing to stop for a stop sign; and Raymond F. Huford of Akron, $10, speeding.

Norman J. Edinger of Alliance forfeited a $20 bond for speeding.

Rebekah Lodge To Meet Tuesday Night

Home Rebekah Lodge will meet Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. at L.O.O.F. front row seats and smiled broadly when the master of ceremonies, Gettysburg's Burgess (Mayor William G. Weaver, told the crowd: "I think it fitting to give the bride and groom of 41 years a big hand at this time."

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO!

Pymatuning Lake, the big 14,650-acre reservoir that lies across the northern end of the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line on U.S. Routes 6 and 32, is the largest body of water next to Lake Erie in this section of the nation.

This lake provides water recreation for many thousands the year around. The Ohio Parks Division maintains thirty-five modern cabins for rental to vacationing families and there are picnic and camping facilities along the Ohio shores of Pymatuning.

Fishermen from a wide area are attracted to this lake primarily because Pymatuning produces the largest walleyes caught in these parts, often weighing up to fourteen pounds. The causeway is a popular spot for bank fishermen. Almost any night during summer and fall people can be seen fishing throughout the hours of darkness from this causeway. There are boats for rental for those who want to take to the water.

Aviatrix Disappeared Twenty Years Ago

OAKLAND, Calif. — Aviatrix Amelia Earhart vanished over a mysterious Pacific Ocean — near tiny Howland Island — 20 years ago tomorrow.

Her disappearance was a shock and a mystery to an America which had come to love the tomboy-like character of this girl in the sky.

With the "Lady Lindy" on the scheduled round-the-world flight, was navigator Frederick J. Noonan.

The daring fliers had neared the end of a 2,550 mile overwater hop from Lae, New Guinea, to Howland Island.

The first indication of trouble, a radio message at 7:42 a.m. July 2, 1937, said:

"We must be on you but cannot see you. Gas is running low."

Forty-eight minutes later — at 8:46 a.m. — came a brief, flickering, final radio signal.

There followed one of history's greatest sea searches in the vicinity of Howland Island, 1,660 nautical miles southwest of the Hawaiian Islands.

The search involved more than 3,000 men, 10 ships, 100 American planes and many "Japanese navy aircraft. It cost the American government more than a million dollars.

No trace of the fliers or plane ever was found.

I AM NO LONGER RESPONSIBLE FOR MY WIFE'S ACTIONS

(Since she got her new kind of Ford)

"If she is unbelievably happy at 7:00 A. M. every morning, I now hold her 1957 Ford responsible. If she is off for the day at 7:02 A. M., I suggest that it is the power of Ford's Thunderbird V-8 engine. If she appears vastly more style-conscious, it is the longer, lower lines of her new kind of Ford that have made her so.

"If she arrives home remarkably refreshed, I refer you to the lower, more comfortable seats, the wider wrap-around windshield and the other peace-of-mind features of her new "Inner Ford." If she's just a bit more spoiled, don't blame her. With optional power steering, power brakes, power windows and seat—who wouldn't be? "And if she is constantly raving about the savings her new car brings her, she's merely confirming what I've been telling her about Fords for years! Sure, we're a two-Ford family now. Ferns and candelabra and vases of white carnations were placed at the altar in the Alliance First Evangelical and Reformed Church sanctuary on Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Margaret June Mate and Gerald L. Miller.

Rev. Walter H. Harrell officiated at the double ring ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mate of 1511 Grace St., Alliance, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Miller of 963 E. Fifth St., Alliance.

Organist was Mrs. Herbert Gorbey of North Benton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Cupion silk with a bouffant skirt, a fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline which featured iridescent sequins and pearls. She wore matching mitts and a crown of iridescent sequins which held in place her silk illusion veil. Her conical bouquet was fashioned of white roses centered with red roses.

Honor Matron Mrs. Dale Mizer of Diamond, cousin of the bride, wore a white nylon chiffon ballerina gown with appliqued yellow flowers gracing the midriff and yellow flowing panels in back. Her crown of white nylon flowers was backed with ruffled yellow net and a nose length veil. Her conical bouquet was formed from yellow carnations.

Bridesmaids were Helen and Janet Yagello of Sebring, nieces of the bride, and flower girl was Susan Amy Yagello, another niece.

Dale Mizer of Diamond, cousin of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Henry Miller of Salem, the bridegroom's brother, Robert Court of Salem, Dale Mizer Jr. and Frank Mizer of Diamond, cousins of the bride, and Alva Stoffer and Tom Dickey of Greenford, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mate wore a white and pink crepe dress with black and white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Miller chose a teal blue crepe dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Two hundred guests greeted the newlyweds at a reception in the William Penn Hall in Alliance when the buffet table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake.

Serving the guests were Mrs. Charles Korbey, Mrs. George Varkonda, Miss Genevieve Varkonda, and Miss Fay Anne Ray.

Mrs. Carl Seibell of Salem registered the guests who came from Canton, Akron, Salem, Cleveland, North Canton and Lake Milton.

When the couple departed for a two-week honeymoon trip to Florida, the bride wore an aqua suit with white accessories.

Pecan Pudding Acquires Chocolate Flavor

Old-fashioned pecan pudding with a brand-new chocolate flavor is making welcome dessert news now. And it requires no chocolate at all!

That surprise flavor accent in "Cookie-Crunch Pecan Pudding" is supplied by the cream-filled chocolate cookies used as a main ingredient. It's rich, crunchy and really delicious.

Here's the easy way to make it:

Mushroomburgers, Tomatoes

Even the most fervent of hamburger addicts have been known to welcome that perennial dish prepared a new way. So whether you cook your summer burgers indoors or out, here's a suggestion.

We are of the school of thought that believes a hamburger should be charred on the outside, pink and juicy inside. To achieve this state, we cook the hamburgers as rapidly as possible in the beginning, then turn down the heat to let the inside change gradually from blue-red to rose-pink. If you're using your kitchen range, a heavy iron skillet will be fine for this method.

Mushroomburgers

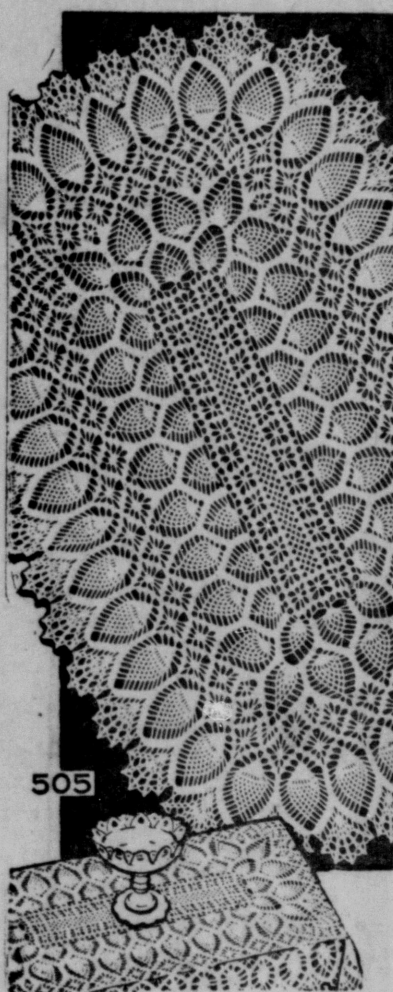

Ingredients: 1/2 pound mushrooms, 1 small onion, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1 1/2 pounds ground lean beef, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 3 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce.

Method: Rinse mushrooms in cold water and dry on a towel; slice very thin. Peel and chop onion fine. Melt butter in a skillet (9 or 10 inches) and add mushrooms and onion. Cook over moderately low heat, stirring often, until wilted — about 10 minutes. Mix ground beef with cooked mushrooms and onion, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Shape into 6 patties. Cook to desired doneness. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Canned shoestring potatoes make a good accompaniment for these mushroomburgers; be sure to heat the potatoes before serving. Pan-fried or boiled tomato halves will also be attractive with the burgers. You might like to try seasoning the tomatoes with a little sugar and curry powder.

Employer Rate Reduction Hit

CIO Says Workers Should Get Benefit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio CIO Council today issued a statement saying that "Ohio employers have been handed an eight million dollar bonanza at the expense of workers injured on the job."

The council said its statement follows the announcement by the Ohio Bureau of Workmen's Compensation that it is reducing employers' premium rates by eight million dollars effective today.

"The bureau should have recommended an increase in compensation rates to workers instead of lowering employers' premium rates," the council statement said, adding that "when there is a question of increasing payments to workers or reducing rates to employers, the decision should be made on behalf of the workers."

"Somewhere along the line, the concern of those responsible for the Workmen's Compensation Law has shifted from the injured worker to the employer," the council statement said. "It's time the concern was shifted back to those the law was passed to help—the men and women who suffer injuries while at work."

The bureau had announced that employers' premium rates would be reduced 9.25 per cent because better safety programs had reduced accidents and resulted in fewer claims.

Louisiana

Route 14 to the south was finally opened from here. At Dawn Sunday a caravan of trucks and Army earth-moving equipment roared along 60 desolate miles of storm-stricken territory.

Poisonous snakes and emboldened rats held sway over the bare foundations of homes that once echoed to the laughter and day-to-day bustle of rural Louisianians.

Cameron, a little fishing village that was the focal point of the storm damage, was the target of the initial cleanup. Once its main street was bulldozed clear for traffic, mop-up squads turned to the rubble of its modest property. Only its courthouse was left intact by the storm.

In Lake Charles, where refugee handling was concentrated, a renewed poignancy drained a population already dazed by shock. Local Protestant and Roman Catholic churches were packed Sunday as refugees joined townsfolk in thanksgiving for the living and honoring the dead.

Army dump trucks later rumbled north from Cameron bearing newly recovered victims of the storm to improvised morgues here. Benumbed survivors met the procession to seek loved ones amid the silent cargo.

Typical of these was M. H. Bardon, who fled for his life from Cameron. Now he came seeking two little nieces, girls 6 and 4 years old. One, Glory Jean, he identified by her hair and dress. Then he moved on, only to pause before a second motionless little form and exclaim: "I think that's Dina. I'll go back and get her little brother . . . He'll know."

Church Members Quit; Protest Negro As Pastor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The entire active membership of the Normandie Avenue Methodist Church has resigned as a body, along with its board of trustees, in protest against the appointment of a Negro pastor.

Board Chairman J. H. Seal announced the action Sunday night. He said the appointment of Pastor Harold B. Higgins by Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy had been made without consultation with either the board or members of the parish.

Seal said he and his associates have removed the furniture and memorials from the church and sent them to the former pastor, the Rev. John W. Grande, who is now at a church near suburban El Monte.

Seal said: "We do not believe it is a good policy to mix races or to force one race upon another. Don't get the idea we are anti-Negro. We are not, but we had a white church and we wanted to keep it that way."

He said the parish has not been supported by Negro churchgoers, although Negro children have been admitted to the Sunday school.

"Bishop Kennedy said he appointed the Rev. Mr. Higgins because the neighborhood was a mixed one with about 40 to 50 per cent colored people," Seal said.

"The fact remains that no Negro adults applied for membership in our congregation while allowing their children to go to our Sunday school."

Girard Gets U.S. Approval To Marry

CAMP WHITTINGTON, Japan (AP) — The U. S. Army today granted Specialist William Girard permission to marry his Japanese fiancée. The young soldier tentatively set Friday as the date for the wedding.

Final approval was granted by 1st Cavalry Division Headquarters, said Maj. Stanley Levin, legal adviser to the 21-year-old Ottawa, Ill., soldier.

"We're tentatively setting the ceremony for 3 o'clock Friday," Levin said. "Girard is quite happy about it."

Girard and Miss Haru (Candy) Sueyama will wed in the white chapelboard chapel at Camp Whittington, 40 miles north of Tokyo, where Girard is under Army restriction.

Girard planned to marry Candy in March before he became the center of an international controversy over foreign criminal trials of U.S. servicemen.

The U.S. Supreme Court is expected to rule this month whether the Army can send Girard over for Japanese trial for the Jan. 30 fatal shooting of a woman scrap metal collector on a U.S. firing range.

The marriage has yet to be cleared by Japanese officials. American servicemen marrying in Japan are required to register the marriage with Japanese town officials and then have the papers witnessed by the U.S. consul.

Safety Tips for Summer Swimmers

With the outdoor season getting into full swing and beaches and pools welcoming bathers, it's time to think of some simple safety rules, such as those illustrated here. An average of 7,000 people lose their lives annually by drowning. About 50 per cent of these deaths are the result of playing in the water. The other 50 per cent happen as a result of accidents such as being pushed into the water or falling from upset boats. It's a good thing to remember that drowning accidents have only two potentials—either death or complete recovery.

Close Probe Of Mishap Involving Mrs. Kefauver
WASHINGTON (AP) — Police said today they have closed their investigation of an auto accident involving cars driven by Mrs. Estes Kefauver and Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson. No charges will be brought, they said.

Robertson's car was struck from the rear Thursday night by one driven by Mrs. Kefauver, wife of the Tennessee senator. The accident occurred in northwest Washington after Robertson stopped for a red light.

Police Lt. Albert Nicholson said the case is closed and that authorities will not pass it along to the District of Columbia's corporation counsel, who could order charges brought, unless Mrs. Kefauver or Robertson request it.

Robertson entered Bethesda Naval Hospital a day after the accident, after suffering neck pains. Police said he had been treated there before for an arthritic condition and said his present troubles may or may not have resulted from the accident.

The diplomat, who is in charge of U.S. Far Eastern policy, was reported in good condition today.

Victims Help Salem Woman Publish Unique Magazine Each Month

'Robin' Cheers Multiple Sclerosis Patients

By LOIS WHITE

A young girl's knees buckle as she prepares to swing a golf club and she misses the ball. A factory welder sets to work on a new piece of material, and finds he is seeing double.

A youthful mother leans over a crib to pick up her baby and suddenly her hands go limp and powerless. The clubwoman begins a talk before a woman's group when her tongue feels like a bar of iron, and her words come out garbled and incoherent.

THESE PEOPLE are in the initial throes of an attack by a disease which has stricken about 250,000 in the United States — Multiple Sclerosis, sometimes referred to in abbreviated form as MS.

There is little in the way of a drug or medical aid which will cure these victims whose greatest hope lies in attaining a spirit of contentment and happiness in the midst of overwhelming personal problems.

A vivacious and energetic Salem woman has accepted the problems of the MS patient as her own and has channeled her interest into the hatching of a Round Robin monthly magazine.

MRS. DARREL FADELY of 654 E. Third St., whose interest in MS was first sparked when a friend contracted the disease, works many hours each month publishing the little booklet which runs to 80 pages and over.

The requirement, of course, is for each MS patient who receives the Robin to jot down a newsy letter in a conversational style. And the letters themselves are a pleasing combination of informally written conversation with the true personality of the writer showing through, problem discussions, facts of everyday living, and an underlying faith that God is helping each one to combat their sickness.

As the months progress and one Robin recipient tells another, more and more MS patients discover the little paper and thrive on its basic editorial mode — a hopeful and happy outlook on life. The mimeograph machine which produces the magazines first gave birth to 12 issues when the Robin was inaugurated in November. Now 75 MS patients and clinics receive the letter.

A BRIGHT OR SUBDUED cover of colored construction paper — dependent upon the mood the editor wishes to convey — typifies the month's theme. The May issue was of bright red paper with a spring fever theme and labeled "Quarantined." Another cover depicted the beauty of the dogwood tree and the fable behind it, and another showed a piece of hymnal music, the melody for which were composed by Mrs. Fadely.

Mr. and Mrs. Fadely have been assisted in the work on the covers and typing copy for the magazine by Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Barnes, Mrs. John Schragg, Mrs. Arthur Kanton, Mrs. Venus L. Bower, Lawrence Yeagley and Joe Pidgeon of the Church Budget Co. Mrs. Lawrence Yeagley is artist for the publication.

INTEREST OF MS PATIENTS in the Robin's offerings is typified by Robert C. Bower of 418 W. State St. who was stricken on Nov. 1, 1953.

For ten years Bower was a pilot with the American Airlines, working out of New York. His first symptoms of MS came when he found it difficult to walk at times; believing he needed a rest, he took a vacation. Bower never returned to his job, because shortly after his vacation began he discovered he had multiple sclerosis.

Since then he has moved back to Salem, where he attended Salem High School, with his mother, Mrs. Venus L. Bower and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ori Sanor.

Because of MS Bower is unable to secure a full-time job, but he reads prodigiously, scans the Wall Street Journal daily, drives a car, follows sports and assists Mrs. Fadely with the Robin publication.

Bower is eager to learn of MS victims in the vicinity who would be interested in receiving the Robin or who would wish to become a member of the newly formed national Multiple Sclerosis Society in Trumbull, Mahoning and Columbiana counties. His telephone number is ED 7-6228, and Bower would welcome calls from

'ROBIN' FLIES TO MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS PATIENTS—Scientists have found no way to cure the Multiple Sclerosis patient, but a sense of contentment and happiness is as necessary to the well-being of the victim as drugs, physicians say. Contributing to the patients interest in life is the Round Robin monthly magazine edited by Mrs. Darrel Fadely who inaugurated publication last November. In the picture above, Mrs. Fadely is shown with Robert C. Bower, a Salem MS victim, while at work on the current issue of the Robin.

MS patients or persons who know of such patients.

THE ROBIN enthusiasts were largely responsible for the initiation of the Tru-Mah-Col Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society which a few weeks ago elected Cecil Jones of Youngstown as head.

The establishment of the local society will enable a more individual contact with MS patients, according to officials; but the society needs the names of MS victims in order to build up the chapter and offer adequate benefits and assistance. Bower is acting secretary for the local area.

WHAT IS MS? Few people can actually enumerate the symptoms or defects produced by the disease.

To begin with, onset of the disease is a slow and wily process with the first symptoms casual and short-lived.

Indications of the disease are: Partial or complete paralysis of parts of the body; numbness of parts of the body; double vision, defective vision, involuntary movement of eyeball; severe bladder and bowel trouble; speech difficulties; extreme weakness; staggering, inability to keep balance; pricking sensation in various parts of the body.

The MS victim may be clear of symptoms after a variable length of time — perhaps hours, minutes, days, weeks and months — although the next time they strike they are usually more severe and may be entirely different.

In many instances, too, the disease process is halted whereby the patient goes into a remission period which may last for years or months — again the time element varies.

This remission is a facet of the disease which, many scientists feel may aid in discovering why and how MS occurs, and may eventually lead to a solution.

WHAT ACTUALLY HAPPENS in MS, which is a disease of the central nervous system, is that damage is done to the protective covering or insulation of the nerves, which is called myelin. Myelin is a fatty substance which surrounds the nerve fibers in the brain and spinal cord much as a piece of lead is covered by wood on a pencil. If any part of myelin is damaged, the ability of the nerve to carry messages is either impaired or destroyed.

What is the cause of MS? Scientists simply do not know.

In conjunction with myelin, the glial cell which manufactures myelin was identified a short time ago, a discovery which many scientists say may be the most important single fact learned about MS in the last 125 years.

Having discovered the cell from which myelin is born, scientists feel they have been given the chance for a possible interruption in the production of a substance which may cause the deterioration. The disease may actually begin somewhere else in the body, and the end result is exerted on the glial cell, thereby being transferred to the myelin.

SOME EXPERTS SAY MS is the cause of a virus, while others have believed a protozoa, the little animal most familiar in malaria which can be carried by an insect, is at fault. And still others believe it originates from a tubercular bacilla, being a tuberculosis.

A sad fact is that the disease cannot be induced in animals and so scientists have never been afforded the opportunity to see MS take its course nor clock its beginnings. However, a disease that can be induced in animals and which is similar to the MS in man is a cute allergic encephalo or meningeal myelitis.

As yet there is no indication

that MS is a genetic or hereditary although it is familial to a degree as are most diseases. And, MS is not known to be contagious.

That the disease has a higher incidence in the north as opposed to the south has been discovered through research. For instance, in Montreal the incidence is six to eight times as high as it is in New Orleans. In Europe, too, the situation is the same. In Italy MS is practically unknown while it is common in Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Finland and upper Germany.

WHO IS STRICKEN with MS? Young adults in the 20 to 40 age group seemingly contract MS in the greatest numbers.

To indicate how far reaching the tentacles of MS extend is the comparison in numbers of MS victims and polio patients.

In 1956, between 15,000 and 16,000 cases of polio were reported in the U.S., all with a high incident of recovery. Compare those with the over 250,000 known cases of MS in 1956 and the fact that few if any patients ever recover to a normal status.

Since MS is not a reportable disease the exact number of MS victims cannot be tabulated. That is why the Salem district patients should contact Bower or Mrs. Fadely.

A tiny organism in spinal fluid has been isolated by Miss Rose Ichelson, a scientist working in St. Luke's Hospital in Philadelphia, which may be the cause of MS. In a study of spinal fluids of 76 cases, Miss Ichelson obtained positive culture of spirochetal organisms in 59 of the cases. However, she emphasizes that other scientists should check her findings.

each into sixths (but not all the way through) and put the stuffing between each slice so your have a pretty fan shape. You can use any stuffing you like. The following salad recipe suggests cottage cheese, but hard-cooked egg mashed and moistened with salad dressing is delicious. So is chicken or tuna salad used in this way.

In the following salad recipe, we've added a dry salad dressing mix to the cheese to season it. Use the rest of the salad dressing mix to add to oil and vinegar when you are preparing tossed greens; ¼ to ½ teaspoon of the mix should be enough for a salad for four.

The dry salad dressing mix we suggest for this recipe comes in an envelope and contains spices, and herbs, salt, sugar and the protein derivative called monosodium glutamate.

Ingredients: 8 ounces (1 cup) creamstyle cottage cheese, 1 to 1½ teaspoons American-style dry French salad dressing mix, ¾ cup finely diced peeled cucumber, 4 small or 3 medium-sized ripe tomatoes, water cress.

Method: Mix the cottage cheese, salad dressing mix and cucumber together. Cut stem end from each tomato and place cut side down on slicing board. Cut each tomato into sixths, being careful not to slice all the way through. Pull slices open gently and fill with cottage cheese mixture. Garnish each filled tomato with water cress. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Cucumber Know How — When you're buying cucumbers for summer salads, choose thin long ones whenever possible. They usually have small seeds and crispness. Wash the cucumber well and dry. Then, using a swivel-blade vegetable parer, remove enough of the skin the length of the cucumber to give a striped effect. Slice paper thin and serve with sliced tomatoes and French dressing.

Make Kitchen Cooler With Inexpensive Exhaust Fan

It's not necessary that the homemaker broil while she broils the steak for the handy man, who is relaxing in his nice, cool cellar.

The thing to do is to get rid of all that hot, humid air. How you accomplish this can be as simple or elaborate, as inexpensive help, as warm air rises naturally.

WHATEVER METHOD you use, be sure to place your facility up toward the ceiling, where the warm air is concentrated.

If it's your own home, permanent installation of an exhaust fan provides all-year-round ventilation.

In a single-floor dwelling, cut a hole in the ceiling with a key-hole saw and fit fan unit in the opening. Work carefully to insure a good fit. Face plate for the unit will cover rough-sawed edges.

Run ductwork straight up through the roof, or out the side of the house.

A cap on the end of the exhaust pipe, if properly calked, will keep out the rain. If unit is vented to side of the house, a louvered unit will serve the same purpose.

IF YOUR ATTIC IS unfinished, the wiring will be out in the open, and making electrical connections should be fairly simple. Play safe; if you're not familiar with wiring procedures, call an electrician.

If you can install the fan directly through an outside kitchen wall, so much the better. Choose a unit with a louvered cap that opens when the fan is turned on. Calk well around cap.

Window fans offer another efficient solution to the ventilation problem, if for some reason you don't want to make a permanent installation.

Made for use in either cased or double-hung windows, there's no problem for even the unhandiest of men. Just plug 'em in.

YOU CAN MAKE USE of a standard household fan to provide you with an efficient ventilating system.

Open the top half of a double hung window all the way. Cut a piece of hardboard or exterior grade plywood for the opening, allowing about a half inch extra on all sides, to permit panel to be screwed to inside of window frame.

Scribe a circle on board the exact diameter of the house fan's protective guard. Position this at correct height for fan, which will stand on a shelf you'll attach to lower window frame. It's important that you make this fit as nearly perfect as possible for efficient operation.

Make shelf of 1/4-inch wood, and mount with angle irons or shelf brackets.

TO KEEP RAIN OUT, install a louvered unit made of aluminum on outer face of window board. Louvers (slats) will open when fan is in operation and fall shut when no air is directed against them.

Fasten fan securely to shelf with screws. Paint window board and shelf to harmonize with rest of the kitchen.

The various parts of this ventilating system can be taken down for winter storage with a minimum of trouble.

Q — What lubricating agent is suitable for use when drilling cast iron?

A — None. Cast iron is drilled dry. For soft steel, use oil or soda water solution; copper, oil; brass, drill dry; wrought iron, oil or soda water; glass, use turpentine.

NEW BRACES DESIGNED

There's a new type of steel bridging designed to replace the wood bridging that long has been used with wood joists. The steel braces, locked into place to form an X, are put up without tools of any kind. Anchor spurs on the braces dig deeper into the joists when there is a shrinkage of the wood, thus preventing squeaks caused by unstable joists.

Pole-Frame Building Becoming Popular

Pole-frame construction, a building method popular with pioneer settlers, is gaining wide acceptance again for a variety of commercial, industrial and farm buildings. Pole-frame structures, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, are among the most economical to erect because they require only a limited amount of skilled labor, no expensive excavations or concrete foundations, and no costly bracing or scaffolding.

Construction involves only the sinking of long wood poles into the ground. Then, the building's walls and roof are fastened directly to these poles. Often, such structures can be erected for as little as $1 or less per square foot. Wood siding is recommended as one of the wall materials to hold down costs.

Architects have revived the pole-frame technique for utility buildings, warehouses, garages, bulk storage bins, equipment sheds, boat houses, and even factories. To increase the life of such buildings, poles should be preservative-treated, the lumbermen suggest.

Funny Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — Bob Hope, the comedian's Croesus, believes he probably has told more jokes than any other man in history.

Home Repair Dos And Don'ts

PAINT BRUSH CARE

DO . . . swirl a new brush between the palms and fingers of your hands in order to remove any loose bristles.

DO . . . for a complete treatment, wrap the brush in brown paper, seal with cellophane tape and soak the bristles in a container of raw linseed oil for at least 24 hours.

DO . . . remove the linseed oil by rubbing the flat of the brush across a smooth wire or hold the brush on a flat surface and squeeze the oil out with a round stick or screwdriver.

DO . . . rinse the brush a couple of times in turpentine, allow it to dry and then, when ready to paint, try a dozen strokes or so across a piece of scrap wood.

DON'T . . . neglect, after a brush has been used, to wipe off the excess on a board, clean with a solvent and (if the brush will not be used for some time) wash with mild soap and warm water and wrap in wax paper, aluminum foil or any similar type of covering.

DON'T . . . use the wrong kind of cleaner; turpentine will do the trick for brushes used in varnish and regular oil paint; denatured alcohol for shellac; lacquer thinner for lacquer; water for paints with a water or rubber base; and the manufacturer's recommended cleaner for special paints.

DON'T . . . forget you'll get better results if you keep separate brushes for different kind of paints and finishing materials.

DON'T . . . place a brush in a container of solvent unless it is so suspended that the bristles do not rest on the bottom.

He's been skipping them out past his ski-slope nose at the rate of better than 10,000 a year for the last quarter century.

"I figure I've told at least a quarter million jokes," he said, "and if you count repeat jokes, that is jokes told over and over to different audiences while on tour, the number would go into the millions."

"I doubt if anyone else has told more," he said, adding with a grin, "who else has had the chance?"

When you look over the field, the candidates are few. Can any other gag man match his combined experience in vaudeville, radio and television, movies (50) and on tour? He still travels 25,000 to 50,000 miles annually and in a two-year period during World War II he racked up 450,000 miles entertaining U. S. servicemen.

K Although he is known as one of the best ad libbers in the business Bob also is as methodical as a clock. He has perhaps the finest individual humor library of anyone in the show world. It runs to about 80 file cabinets.

"I have a complete script of practically every show I was ever on," he said, "plus all the material written for them which, for one reason or another, was crowded out at the time."

Once he had 12 writers and three secretaries at work building up his laugh library.

"It must contain at least between three and four million jokes," he remarked.

Many times he has gone to his library to help out fellow entertainers in desperate need for fresh material.

"I'm glad to help them," said Bob, "particularly if they're doing a show for charity I believe in."

The stern anxieties of comedy that have driven many present day funny men to psychoanalysis leave Hope untroubled.

"I'm not a couch man myself," he said. "And I'm not sad — just disgustingly normal."

"Every comedian is an individual, but television — the problem of trying to be funny every week — can drive anyone to the couch."

"It gives a man the feeling he's in a rut. It takes a lot of work sometimes to get rid of that feeling. I think the best answer is to change — to try something different."

Hope feels he escaped the danger of rut - rust by starring in "Beau James", the life story of former New York Mayor Jimmy Walker.

"It was more of a straight dramatic role. One problem I had was that the mayor was a skinny guy. I had to lose 15 pounds. I did it on a diet of lamb chops, fruit salad and yogurt."

Glass Doors Are Gaining In Popularity

In January, 1951, approximately 250 sliding glass doors per month were being manufactured by less than a dozen manufacturers, all located in southern California. What little sale they had was confined mostly to their own area and to expensive homes.

Today, these same manufacturers... now the nucleus of a booming business on a national basis... are producing and selling 30,000 sliding glass doors and windows every month. Although 80 per cent of all these products are still manufactured in California, sliding glass doors are now in common use in every state in the union in all climates.

The Sliding Glass Door and Window Institute points out that only one home in every 12,000 had sliding glass doors or windows in 1951, whereas today one in every 10 new homes is equipped with them.

Originally used only to integrate the living room to the patio the doors and windows now are being used to integrate kitchens, dining rooms, hallways, bedrooms and even living rooms with the outdoors. Newer, lighter and stronger materials have permitted the use of double-paneled glass in cold climates and the consequent elimination of drafts and heat losses.

GREEN LUMBER BETTER

Green lumber is better than seasoned lumber in making forms for concrete work. Well-dried lumber draws in moisture from the concrete and will be subject to warping. If well-seasoned lumber is the only kind available, be sure to give it a coat of oil before the concrete mixture is put inside the forms.

Veterans Guide

(By Veterans Administration)

Q—My husband, a World War I veteran, bought a house with a GI loan. Shortly afterward, he died of a service-connected condition. As an unmarried widow, would I still be entitled to a GI loan, even though he used his benefit before his death?

A—Yes. The service-connected death of your husband would entitle you to a GI loan, even though he obtained one before he died.

Q—A friend of mine died without choosing a method of settlement of his GI insurance policy. But he did name his wife as beneficiary. How will she receive the insurance proceeds?

A—She will receive the proceeds in 36 monthly installments. But she does have the right to choose any other installment option of payment. She cannot, however, receive the money in one lump sum.

Q—I was in military service for one year when I was wounded in Korea and had to be discharged for disability. How much vocational rehabilitation training would I be entitled to?

A—Vocational rehabilitation training does not depend upon your length of service. You may train for as long as is necessary to restore your employability, up to a maximum of four years and in some cases even longer.

Q—I am going to a trade school under the Korean GI Bill, and I understand I am allowed up to 30 days of absence a year. Do legal holidays count as absences?

A—No. Legal holidays do not count as absences.

Frequently taking journeys on his rail lines in 13 states, President Harry A. DeButts of the Southern Railway Company carries a notebook for complaints from both passengers and trainmen.

Questions and Answers

It is flattering, though somewhat disturbing to receive letters such as today's first.

Q—I have received a letter from a friend in an occupied country in Europe. She says she is troubled by pain below the right rib and right shoulder blade. She has been to a couple of doctors, but their diagnoses are not the same. Could you please tell me what her trouble is and what she should do for it?

A—Attempts at making a long distance diagnosis or recommendations for treatment (even on much more information than contained in this letter) are unwise in the extreme and often illegal. The human body is a complex affair and it would be doing your friend no favor to guess at what is wrong with her or to suggest treatment. I am sorry.

Q—My 18-year-old son has a slight tremor of the hands. Is this caused by emotional or physical disturbances? He is a normal healthy, athletic boy and is good at doing delicate work with his hands. However, every time he touches anything his hand gives a slight jerk which people notice.

A—There are several possible causes for a tremor or muscular twitch in an 18-year-old boy. Some of these afflictions run in families. Some are the result of acquired conditions such as chorea, or St. Vitus dance. Many of them, regardless of the original cause, are made worse by emotional disturbance. An accurate diagnosis of this type of tremor should be made.

Q—Three years ago I had plastic surgery performed on my nose with good results. Six months ago my small son accidentally bumped my nose hard and now the skin is looking loose. The question is whether I should consider plastic surgery again.

A—The accidental bump was most unfortunate. Since the results of your previous surgery were successful it seems to me the best thing to do would be to go to the same surgeon again as soon as possible to get his opinion on the advantages or disadvantages of additional work.

Q—I should like to know something about intercostal neuralgia and why it lingers on so long.

A—By definition this is a pain in one or more of the nerves passing between the ribs. Frequently the cause of such nerve pain is hard to identify. Unfortunately the pain of neuralgia of ten persists for a long time, no matter where located. In those varieties which do not improve reasonably promptly by conservative measures it is sometimes possible to bring relief by injection in or near the nerve root, or by cutting the nerve involved.

Q—Please tell me what might be the effect of too much antibiotics taken at the same time?

A—The most likely reaction would be a kind of allergy. This is not unusual and often takes the form of hives. When allergy follows a particular antibiotic drug, both the patient and the physician should make a note of it and use some other type of preparation if the patient again needs to be treated with preparations of this sort.

The hippopotamus of the upper Nile River, often thought of as a harmless, amiable creature, can attack without apparent provocation.

Marble Tile Gives Foyer Luxury Touch

An entrance foyer that is beginning to look rundown at the heel can be given a luxury touch with the installation of real marble. This is possible with a thin marble tile now on the market... half the thickness and half the weight of a regular marble slab.

Over the floor, lay strips of the desired color hardwood, two inches wide and half-an-inch thick. The strips are laid so that squares are formed into which the tile will be set in place with mastic. How large the squares are will depend on what size marble tile you buy. They come in three sizes—8 inches by 8 inches, 8 inches by 12 inches, and 12 inches by 12 inches.

For the best effects, contrast the tone of the wood with one of the 18 different marble colorings, a dark wood-light marble or light wood-dark marble being the most interesting combinations.

Loes Gives Up 4 Hits As Orioles Trounce Indians 12-3

Tribe Makes Four Errors

Bob Lemon's Record
Now 5 Wins, 6 Losses

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians arrived home today after winning seven games of a 14-game tour of the east.

The eastern swing showed the Indians at their very best and their absolute worst. They whipped the league-leading New York Yankees soundly and then fell apart against the sixth-place Baltimore Orioles.

Behind the effective pitching of Don Mossi, the Tribe walloped the Yankees in the first game of a three-game series, 11-2, scoring more runs against the Bronx bombers than any team this season.

Early Wynn shut out the Yankees in the finale, 2-0, after the Indians dropped the second game 3-1. It was the first time this season the Yankees were held scoreless.

After their impressive showing against the Yankees, the Indians anticipated no trouble from the Baltimore Orioles. The Orioles had never won more than one game in a series from the Indians in the four years they have been at Baltimore.

The scrappy Orioles bunted their way to a 6-0 victory in the first game of the four-game series as the Indians made six errors, five of them wild throws. The shutout was their fourth in a row, tying an American League record held jointly by the Indians and the Yankees.

Regaining some of their form, the Tribe won the first game of a doubleheader 2-1, and dropped the second game 5-1.

In the series finale Sunday the Indians came apart at the seams. Limited to just four hits by Billy Loes, the Tribe made four errors and were soundly trounced, 12-3.

Bob Lemon started and lost for Cleveland his sixth defeat against five victories. He was tapped for four runs in the first three innings including Bob Neiman's two-run triple.

Gene Woodling put the Indians within striking distance in the fourth with a three-run homer into the rightfield stands. Scoring ahead of Woodling were Larry Raines, who reached first on an error, and Vic Wertz, who got the only walk issued by Loes.

Lemon was relieved by Bud Daley in the sixth after giving up two more runs. The game was delayed almost an hour by rain just as Daley started pitching to his first batter.

After finishing the sixth with no difficulty, Daley was victimized for five runs in the seventh. The Orioles got only two hits in the inning but were helped by three walks and errors by Vic Wertz and Kenny Kuhn.

Gus Triandos belted his sixth homer of the season in the eighth off Mike Garcia who followed Daley's relief, Dick Tomanek.

Kansas City moves into Municipal Stadium tonight for a single game with the Indians.

Giants Split With Cardinals

Red Sox Beat Tigers; Braves Sweep Twin Bill From Pirates

By The Associated Press

The New York Yankees were back in first place today but a new threat has risen in the American League pennant race in the person of the Boston Red Sox.

Winners of 11 of their last 13 games, the Red Sox have pushed their way into a virtual third-place tie with Cleveland, only seven games off the pace. Paced by the three-man wrecking crew of Ted Williams, Jackie Jensen and Frank Malzone, the Red Sox flattened Detroit 10-3 yesterday for a sweep of their three-game set over the Tigers, who have lost 10 of their last 13.

Williams rapped a double and single in addition to his 20th home run and drove in three runs. Jensen contributed a grand-slam homer and double, while Malzone rapped a single and triple, driving in two runs.

The Red Sox slugging bee was just one of the many highlights of an eventful Sunday.

Kansas City pitcher Ralph Terry came within five outs of a no-hitter and Yankee pitcher Don Larson hurled his first complete game of the season as New York made it 11 in a row over the Athletics with 2-1 and 5-1 victories.

Roy Sievers' 18th home run, his second of the day, gave Washington a 10-inning, 11-9 victory after the Chicago White Sox had rallied for four runs in the ninth to win the opener 7-6. The Sox overcame a 9-3 deficit in the second game before Sievers' second homer knocked them out of a first-place tie with the Yankees.

Baltimore won its first series from Cleveland since it returned to the American League in 1954, capturing the third game in the four-game set as Billy Loes pitched a four-hit, 12-3 triumph over the Indians.

Henry Aaron became the first major leaguer to reach 100 hits and banded his 22nd and 23rd home runs as the Milwaukee Braves swept a double-header from Pittsburgh 7-4 and 6-5. Edie Mathews' two-run homer in the 13th won the second game and kept the Braves in first place, half a game in front of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Brooks Lawrence turned in a six-hitter for his ninth victory in Cincinnati's 6-1 triumph over Philadelphia, then came back to snuff out a Philly rally in the ninth as the Redlegs also won the second game 6-2.

Ruben Gomez became the first National League pitcher to post 10 victories as the New York Giants defeated St. Louis 5-3 in the first game. The Cardinals came back to win the nightcap 7-1 behind bonus righthander Lindy McDaniel. Stan Musial hit a three-run homer for the Cards, his 18th of the season.

Brooklyn established a record reverse when 27 Dodgers struck out as they were held to a split of their double-header with the Chicago Cubs. After Chicago had won the opener 3-2, in 11 innings, young Danny McDevitt hurled a five-hitter for his third victory, in Brooklyn's 5-1 triumph.

Willard Nixon was the beneficiary of the Red Sox slugging, winning his sixth game although he had to quit in the seventh when he suffered an old knee ailment.

A double by pinch hitter Harry Simpson ruined young Terry's revenge effort against his former Yankee teammates. The blow came with two out and two on in the eighth of the opener. Terry had retired 22 of the first 23 batters he faced when Gil McDougald doubled with one out in the eighth for the first hit off the 21-year-old right-hander.

Pinch hitter Joe Collins walked, then Simpson drove in the tying and winning runs.

Larsen, completing his first game since his brilliant World Series perfect game effort, permitted only four hits for his third victory. Mickey Mantle's run-scoring single in the first, and Yogi Berra's 11th homer in the sixth spelled defeat for rookie Jack Urban, another ex-Yankee.

Larry Doby's triple, one of his six hits in the twin bill, climaxed Chicago's four-run rally in the ninth that saw the Sox overcome a 6-3 deficit. Doby also hammered two home runs and three singles.

Sievers' 10th-inning homer, with Clint Courtney on base, earned Chuck Stobbs his second triumph against 12 defeats in the finale.

Baltimore clubbed loser Bob Lemon and three Cleveland relievers for 14 hits, including a home run by Gus Triandos.

Matthews' 16th home run, with a runner on base in the 13th, gave Milwaukee its sixth straight victory. The Braves won the opener with a five-run eighth that snapped a 2-2 tie.

Home runs by George Crowe, his 15th, Don Hoak and Pete Lawrence, who went all the way to Whisenant, featured the Reds' double win over Philadelphia. Lawrence, who went all the way in the opener, came in with the bases full in the ninth of the second game and retired Harry Anderson on a foul to save the victory for Johnny Klippstein.

Willie Mays paced the Giants to their first game win with two triples and a double. Homers by Musial, Del Ennis and Hobie Landrith helped McDaniel to his eighth victory in the nightcap.

Ernie Banks' double in the 11th drove in Bob Speake with the winning run in Chicago's first-game victory over Brooklyn. Gino Cimoli paced the Dodgers with three hits in the second game.

Billy Loes Becomes Ardent Oriole Fan

BALTIMORE (AP)—Broadway Billy Loes has become an ardent Baltimore Oriole fan.

The feeling is mutual. The New Yorker was the toast of Baltimore street after pitching his seventh straight and ninth victory of the season Sunday for the Orioles against Cleveland, 12-3. However, Loes refused to get excited about himself although a year ago the Brooklyn Dodgers felt he was through with a sore arm at the age of 27 and sold him for $20,000 to the Orioles.

"Any body can pitch with this ball club behind them and in this big park," he claimed. "They make the runs and the field gems. They got a real defense and they can score."

Musial Didn't Need Assist

Stan Wins All-Star Spot Without Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan (The Man) Musial of St. Louis didn't need an assist from Commissioner Ford Frick to gain his customary spot on the National League All-Star team, it developed today.

Only three days ago, Frick tossed Cincinnati's George Crowe, Gus Bell and Wally Post off the team and replaced them with Musial, Willie Mays and Hank Aaron after he decided that Cincinnati fandom was stuffing the ballot box.

As things turned out, Stan the Man pulled in 363,792 votes for first base compared to 272,655 for Crowe even after the last-minute deluge of Redleg votes.

Mays and Aaron needed the commissioner's aid, though. In the battle for center field, Bell drew 471,295 votes to 302,573 for the New York Giant flycatcher. Post collected 445,457 votes to 335,913 in the race for right field with Aaron, Milwaukee's top hitter.

But by executive edict, it will be Mays in center field and Aaron in right field when the National League takes the field in St. Louis on July 9. Frick made no comment in announcing the starting team Sunday.

Nor did he have any answer to the Redleg proposal that Bell, Crowe and Post be made "honorary" members of the team so they can collect the gift that goes to each member of the All-Stars. Manager Walt Alston will select his pitchers later in the week.

Here, is how the National League team lines up:

Robinson had the heaviest score, 745,689 votes.

TENNIS TOURNEY OPENS

CINCINNATI (AP)—The 58th annual Tri-State Tennis Tournament opens here today with a strong international flavor, notably among women entrants.

Bernard (Tut) Barten of Dallas, winner here two years ago, and Lois Felix of Meriden, Conn., Tri-State winner in 1954, are favored to head their fields.

But strong contenders include Armando Veiera of Brazil in the men's division and Martha Hernandez of Mexico, a semi-finalist last year.

Overseas entrants in the women's division represent Denmark, Germany, Canada, and Sweden.

Lawrence Allows Only 6 Hits

Cincinnati Hammers Out 6-1 Victory Over Philadelphia

CINCINNATI (AP)—The resurgent plate power of Cincinnati's Redlegs is helping the team win games again, but they would have trouble without a hurler like Brooks Lawrence.

The imperturbable Springfield right-hander went through his seventh complete game Sunday, dealing out six hits in the Reds' 6-1 opener victory over Philadelphia. Then he was rushed back in the ninth inning of the nightcap to preserve a 6-2 win.

And that opening game victory featured Lawrence's first two runs-batted-in this season. In all, he had an interesting day.

The only damaging blows off the Redleg in the first game were doubles by Ed Bouchee and Rip Repulski in the sixth inning that produced the Phillies' only run. The Reds jumped on Phillie starter Curt Simmons for most of the scoring damage before he left in the fourth inning.

Don Hoak's run-scoring single in the second started Redleg scoring. Simmons loaded the bases on a walk to Roy McMillan, but Lawrence followed with his two-run single that made it 3-0.

A walk, a single and Hoak's sacrifice fly brought in another run in the fourth before Simmons' departure. And Roy McMillan lost a potential triple and a run-batted-in when a fan grabbed his hit down the rightfield line.

The Reds finally concluded scoring in the fifth when Gus Bell singled and George Crowe drilled a homer into the rightfield chairs. The biggest crowd of the year—32,587 fans—watched the Reds set up another commanding lead in the nightcap, then run into danger in the dying minutes.

With a duplicate 6-1 score facing them in the ninth, the Phils capitalized on reliever Don Gross for a walk, a hit batsman and a single by Richie Ashburn to load the bases.

Granny Hamner popped out, but Gross walked Bouchee to force in a run. Lawrence was called for again, and he ended the game by getting Harry Anderson to foul out.

Three of those Redleg runs in the second game came on home runs by Pete Whisenant in the fifth inning and Don Hoak in the sixth.

The Redleg scoring had started in the second when Frank Robinson walked, went to third on a single and came in when Hoak hit into a force play. Hoak came in, too, stealing second and scoring on a McMillan single.

Doubles by Whisenant and Crowe in the third accounted for the third marker.

The only rough spot for Cincinnati starter John Klippstein brought in the first Philadelphia run in the sixth, coming on a walk and two singles.

The Reds left immediately after the game for Chicago where they start a two-game series today. Joe Nuxhall is slated to oppose Dick Drott.

In the next five years about 1,000 engineering graduates from India will receive training in iron and steel technology in United States steel plants and foundries.

Herron's Transfer Loses Two Games

Herron's Transfer AA team lost two contests over the weekend. At Youngstown they were beaten by General Fireproofing 12-1, and in a game played Sunday afternoon at Kelley Park, the New Castle Robinsons toppled the local team 6-1.

General Fireproofing rapped out 14 hits, and the Herron squad made four errors to contribute to the latter's loss. Bill Herman started for the losers and left after the second frame with the score 8-1 in favor of General Fireproofing.

Bill Earhart finished out the contest from the second inning on, giving up four markers.

In Sunday's contest the two teams battled evenly for the first three frames. Robinsons then put together a four-run outburst in the fourth inning, and scored one run each in the fifth and sixth cantos.

Salem's only run came in the bottom of the seventh game. Jerry Jeffries and Leo Kline got the locals' only hits. Kline gave up seven hits to the winners.

ASPHALT Saves $290,115 on new Golden Gate Bridge Approach

By using Asphaltic construction on the Waldo Grade on US 101 approaching the Golden Gate Bridge, a saving of 48.8 per cent was realized . . . an average of $78,564 a mile.

Many factors besides economy were considered in making the choice of Asphalt. Asphalt lent itself to the difficult job of constructing a wide strip over a steep, hilly terrain. It also offered fast working characteristics, durability, smooth riding, black beauty, skid resistance and economical maintenance.

The new Golden Gate Bridge approach provides velvet smooth riding comfort that will endure for generations . . . another shining example of the nation-wide preference for the flexible low cost Asphalt paving.

There's a reason 4/5 of America's paved roads are ASPHALT!

Ford Captures Golf Title

Veteran Has Earned $35,000 To Date

DETROIT — Determined Doug Ford, a crusty veteran of playoff pressure, today had the elusive Western Open golf title that he booted away just a year ago.

The $5,000 top prize that goes with it brought Ford's earnings for the year to $35,000, twice as high as those of any other professional.

Ford won the 54th Western Open Championship yesterday, overcoming the playoff jinx that deprived him of the title last year. It took a dramatic finish on the final hole for the 34-year-old Mahopac, N.Y., swinger to muscle into a four-way sudden death playoff, and a steady performance in the tension-packed extra hole duel to win it.

The Masters champion beat down the challenges of big George Bayer, Gene Littler and Billy Maxwell after the four tied with 72 holes.

Littler, the 1953 national amateur champion from Singing Hills, Calif., and Maxwell, 1951 amateur titlist from Odessa, Tex., departed early, each going over par on the first hole while Bayer and Ford managed No. 2 and Ford won the big money when Bayer, whose wild drive on the third hole struck a spectator, failed to make par.

Ford was three strokes ahead of the field with but three holes to play last year at San Francisco when he blew up and went over par on each of the three holes. That left him in a four-way tie for the lead and burly Mike Fetchick won the 18-hole playoff.

Sunday's playoff could just as easily have been an eight-man affair, Ed (Porky) Oliver, Canton, Mass.; Jimmy Demaret, Kiame-sha Lake, N.Y.; Gay Brewer Jr., Cincinnati; Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Paul Hareney, Bolton, Mass.; and Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., finished in a six-way tie just one stroke behind the leaders.

Nicklaus has a plus 2 handicap, and Blancett plus 1. Rankin, Daniels, Shave and Roll are scratch players, and Pipoly and Seyler have handicaps of ¾.

The women will qualify 16 for the championship flight in an 18-hole test July 8, and single rounds of 18-hole match play are slated the next four days.

The state amateur program calls for a 36-hole qualifier, 18 each of the first two days starting July 9. Double 18-hole match play rounds are scheduled July 11 and 12, with the 36-hole semi-finals Saturday, and the 36-hole championship match Sunday, July 14.

Jackie Burke, the Kiamasha, N. Y., pro who had to retire after two rounds with a pulled arm tendon in the recent national open at Toledo, will defend his PGA crown at Dayton where more than $40,000 in prize money will be up for the grabs by the 128 qualifiers. It's all match play.

Nicklaus, who joined Maurice McCarty of Cincinnati, and Frankit Stranahan of Toledo, as the only amateurs ever to win the state open, will battle the professionals again at Mansfield. Last year at Marietta the professional field was rather skimpy, but the play-for-pay contingent is expected to be out in force for the upcoming open to keep the youngster from a second straight triumph.

But the Columbus redhead has all the shots, and is capable of winning again, regardless of the concentrated professional opposition.

Stepanic's, Drive-In Win Softball Games

In two contests played at Kelley Park Saturday night, Stepanic's beat Old Dutch 6-2, and Salem Drive-In ripped Bloomberg's 13-5.

Two other contests were forfeited, with Kaiser and Westville recorded as victors over Collin's Dairy and Chappell's respectively.

Eddie Bozick highlighted the Stepanic win, smashing two home runs, both over the left center field fence. Dick Daugherty had a perfect night for the winners, getting two hits in two trips to the plate.

Stepanic's held a 1-0 lead at the end of the first frame, but Old Dutch evened the count in the third. In the bottom of this can't, Stepanic's again took the lead by scoring another run.

In the top of the fourth, the losers evened the count for the last time at 2-2. In the bottom half of the frame, Stepanic's pushed across two markers, and from this point on they were never challenged.

Bloomberg's held a 2-1 lead going into the bottom of the second inning, but the Drive-In nine scored seven runs in that frame to walk away from their opponents.

Feicht and R. Hiner had perfect nights, rapping out four and three hits, respectively, to pace the 18-hit Drive-In assault.

Charlie Pratt Wins AAU Decathlon Title

KINGSBURG, Calif. — When he failed to win a place on Uncle Sam's Olympic team as a hurdler last year, Charlie Pratt decided to take a whirl at the gruelling AAU National Decathlon.

With just six days of practice, he finished sixth in 1956 and planned only one more attempt.

Today the 23-year-old, 175-pound speedster holds the 1957 title, won in two nights of competition in 10 events which ended late Saturday night.

After his victory, the veteran runner said he plans to give up track and field and concentrate on providing security for his family after discharge from the Army in September.

A changing decathlon scene found Milt Campbell and Bob Richards missing and Rafter Johnson competing in only three events because of a knee ailment. Those three composed the Olympic decathlon team last year and have dominated the competition in the past four.

So it was the 6-foot Pratt who came through with a start-to-finish victory with 7,164 points — well off Johnson's winning 7,754 last year and his world record 7,985 and Campbell's Olympic mark of 7,937.

Pratt, former Manhattan College star from Palmyra, N. J., and now in the Army at Ft. Dix, triumphed in the 100-meter dash and added first places in the 400-meter dash and the 110-meter high hurdles.

University of Oregon freshman Dave Edstrom, 81, captured the javelin throw with a 179 feet 1½ inch toss on the final night to finish second with 6,981. That put him 71 points ahead of Bob Lawson, University of Southern California star from Aberdeen, Wash., who was third.

OHIO EAST IS VICTOR
COLUMBUS, Ohio — A big seventh-inning rally gave Ohio's Eastern High School All-Stars a 6-2 victory Sunday over the West in J-Et Stadium here.

The East won two games to one in the two-day series. Dick Schneider of Columbia Aquinas paced the West at bat with two hits, while Gary Allen got two for the East.

Mike Hershberger of Massillon won the Harley-Davidson Trophy as the most valuable Eastern player, and Reading's Claude Osteen took the honors for the West.

Kaiser To Install 3rd Press In Refractories Plant

Companies Set Vacation Schedules In Month Of July

COLUMBIANA — The Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Co. is installing a third press in its refractories brick plant at the western edge of town to meet the needs of its increasing volume of business. The plant was built to accommodate five presses. This spring the company removed a farm dwelling and barn that remained on the east side of the highway to afford drivers a better view of the plant along Rt. 844.

The Kaiser plant is operating on a full schedule at the end of its first year of operation and is starting vacations on a staggered basis to avoid a shutdown. At the end of a year's service, employees are eligible for a week's vacation.

Other Columbiana industries, except National Rubber Machinery Co., are operating in full and some on overtime. National Rubber is down to 450 employees on a four-day week from more than 500 employees and a six-day week. Plant officials attribute the slump to the automobile industry.

THE F. C. RUSSELL CO has been on a 5½-day week, 10 hours a day, but will be shut down the first two weeks of this month for vacations.

The Columbiana Foundry Co. resumed today after having been idle last week for vacations.

Columbiana Engineering Co., working a six-day week, 9½ hours a day, will shut down July 12 for two weeks.

Columbiana Pump Company's foundry and machine shop are shut down the first two weeks of this month.

The Enterprise Co., with 118 employees on a 50-hour week and staggered vacation schedule, will not shut down.

Franklin Furniture Co. will resume next Monday after a shutdown of two weeks for vacations.

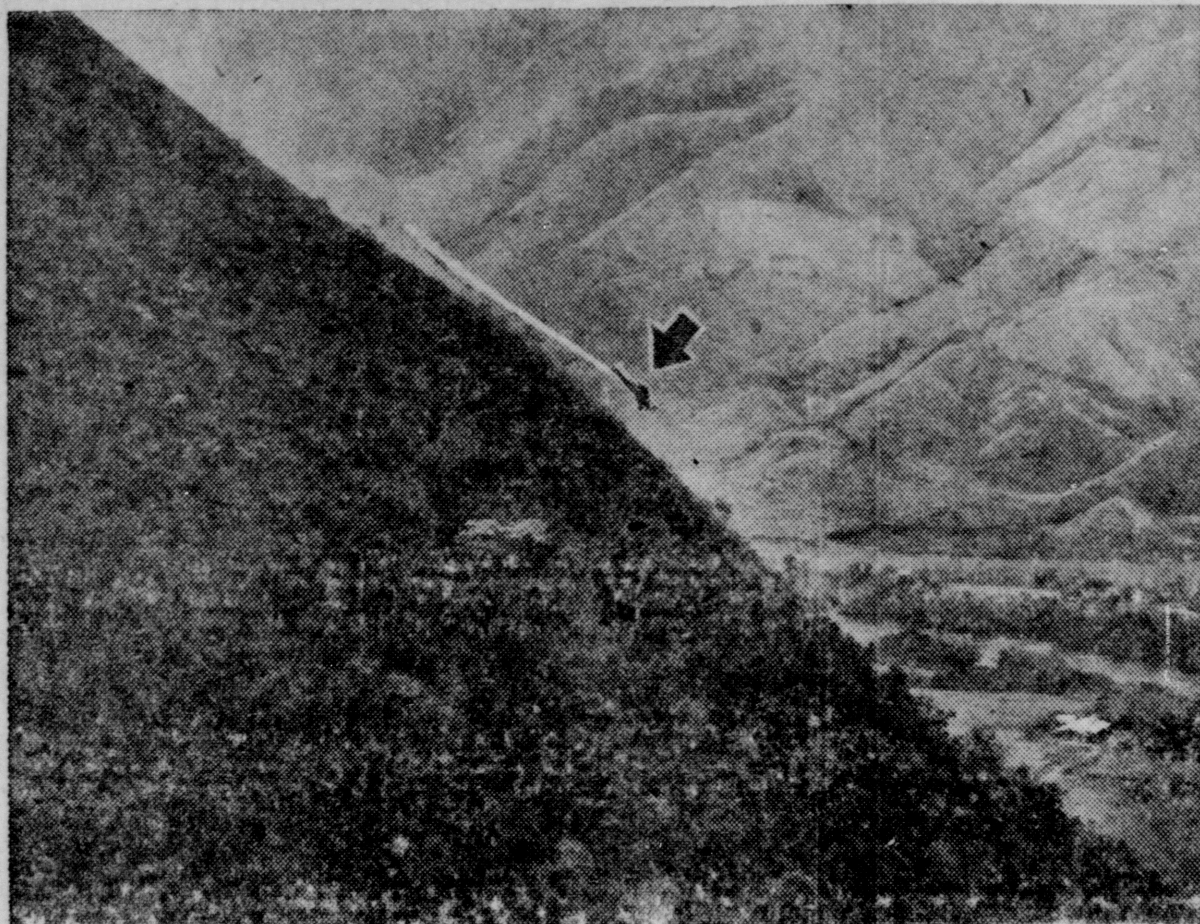

Columbiana Boiler Co. is shut down this week for vacations. It has been working an extra shift.

Harold Tool Co. is shut down this week. Central Porcelain Co. will be shut down during the month but will continue to ship out orders.

The Columbiana board of affairs has changed the due date of water bills to the 15th of the month to coincide with the date of electric bills.

SUICIDE, ANYONE?—A 37-year-old U.S. pilot mans the tiny plane (arrow) that looks like a toy as it wings down a steep Andean hillside on a crop-dusting run. Dave Bump of Springville, N.Y., has in four years become an expert at dusting in Colombia's rugged territory. Bump has logged 20,000 hours dusting over terrain that's a far cry from long, flat U.S. farm areas. Many Colombian farms are high in remote mountain areas.

Miss Greta Corrine Churan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Churan of North Miami, Fla., formerly of Columbiana, was united in marriage June 14 with Clement J. Rader, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rader of Sugar Grove, Va. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dickson W. Taylor in Muhlenberg Lutheran Church, Harrisonburg, Va.

The bride was graduated from Edison High School in Miami in 1952, attended Capital University in Columbus for two years and had been employed in the loan department of the People's National Bank, Miami Shores, Fla. The bridegroom attended Madison College and received his B.B. degree from Capital University. He will graduate from the seminary in January. They are living at 601 Fair Ave. in Columbus.

RIGHT TO CELEBRATE—Mrs. Earl G. Foy, of Rebel Hill, Pa., has more than the usual reasons of any good American to celebrate Independence Day. She was born on July 4, in Pawlins, Pa., which lies in the shadow of Valley Forge, and her first name is Independence. "When I arrived on the Fourth of July," Mrs. Foy says, "my mother said, 'We just can't call her anything else but Independence.'" She in turn named her eldest daughter Independence, even though the child was born in October.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

A little melancholy music, Professor. For us, not for Dave Beck. He's not weeping in his beer business. He's got a good head and the old master is using it in a power play to retain control of the Teamsters and perhaps stay on as president despite the big scandal of 1957.

This I pass on to you as the positive opinion of the handful of top leaders of the AFL-CIO, a band of informed men whose grapevine, though of ancient vintage, out-performs the most modern electronic communication services.

I offer to you as fact their belief in the following: Jimmy Hoffa has a mutual assistance pact with Dave Beck. Working with this coalition is the influential Western Conference of Teamsters' chief, Frank Brewster.

Between them they have enough votes to control the brotherhood's convention in September in Miami Beach.

There is no taming of the shrewd — and the fact is that both Hoffa and Beck want the presidency, if they are free.

THEY HAVE TOLD each other this in personal conversations and through intermediaries. This may amaze the public but which of you casts votes in the Teamsters' convention?

Hoffa has tried to talk Beck out of even toying with the idea. But Beck isn't yielding easily. The fact is that since Beck has been out of the Kleig lights, he has run the Teamsters from Seattle.

It is Beck who flew into New York the other day to talk secretly with eastern Teamster officials — and then take wing for Miami Beach to make the final arrangements for the final show.

It is Beck who still is listed as editor of the Teamsters' publication — which still is his personal mouthpiece.

It is Beck who reappointed Frank Brewster as head of the Western Conference of Teamsters without as much as a phone call to any other union official, except Hoffa.

IT IS BECK who set the date for the Teamsters' executive board session in Los Angeles for July 1 and then dispatched a command note to all vice presidents to be prepared to spend seven days over the July Fourth holiday instead of the usual three or four day sessions.

It is Beck who then postponed the session for a week hoping that Jim Hoffa would be out of the federal trenches by the Fourth and would fly west. Big Brother did this because he did not want to face the opposition without Jimmy's strong hand to pound the table for him.

It is Beck who thought that the several score legal loophole lawyers, otherwise known as the Teamsters' lawyers, should spend some pleasant days at the Antlers' Hotel in Colorado Springs starting July 15.

It is Beck who saw to it that one of the featured speakers would be a professor from the University of Wisconsin, none other than Nathan Feinsinger, one of America's brightest labor experts.

IT IS BECK who finally approved the agenda for this briefing session on how to make the Teamsters' fallout as clean as possible.

Among "the 20 legal subjects vital to the Teamsters" will be skull practice on "abuses of witnesses by Senate and congressional committees during hearings in which committee members and staff employees act as both persecutor and prosecutor . . . current hearings before the Senate Labor-Management Committee and their over-all effect on trade unions . . . the Hobbs (anti-racketeering) Act . . . the Supreme Court decisions . . . important NLRB rulings . . . the AFL-CIO merger . . . welfare and pension funds and the rash of right-to-work-laws." From these briefing sessions the lawyers will fan out to all parts of the country for the war, not only on the Senate, but on the national AFL-CIO leadership itself.

AFL-CIO PRESIDENT George Meany apparently has sent word that the Teamsters will be bounced if Jim Hoffa is president, or Dave Beck, of course, or if their coalition obviously controls the Teamsters during the next five year term in that union.

Beck's five year plan calls for exactly that sort of control. If he can't be president, he'll try to slip the crown to Hoffa.

If Jimmy is too hot, Hoffa will wait. He's only 42 now and can take over at 47. So they'll try to put a front man in.

Whoever he is, he'll be no innocent front — and the war inside labor will really rage.
